Mills aubscribet has now on hand a large and fine assortment of FURNITURE.

Which he proposes to sell on reasonable terms, and which will be warranted to be of the BESE naterial, still ash rivisn? There has been some objection arged to buying furniture in Danville, on account of the difference in price between the article manufactured hereand that gatten ilp in larger cities. An invenior article of any description can generally be bought low, while a goon ARTICLE commands a Pair Price enruchere! In almost every case, what is made in reduction of price, is somewhere lost in quality. To make an article real y good, there must be good materials and good work manship, and these always command fair prices. The rule holds good in regard to the manufacture of Furniture, as well as onything else. My present stock embraces almost every thing in the line which can be called for, and patronage received, would respectfully am constantly manufacturing; so that my er-
